

BOY DESCRIBES HOTEL MURDER

Tells How He Killed His Aged Friend for Money.

PAUL GEIDEL ON THE STAND

Calls on Mr. Jackson in His Room, Upon Invitation, and Attempts to Rob Host When He Falls Asleep.

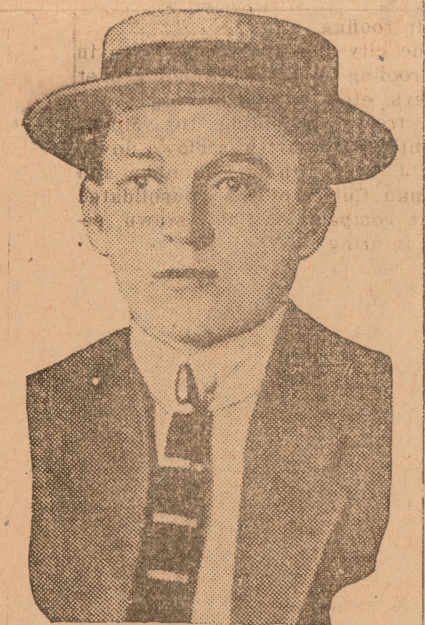

New York, Aug. 29.—Paul Geidel, former bellboy in the Iroquois hotel, went on the stand in his own defense in general sessions and told how he killed William H. Jackson, a guest at the hotel, on the evening of July 26.

Geidel said that he was seventeen years old and had been at the Iroquois two weeks when he met W. H. Jackson. He frequently took ice water to Mr. Jackson's room and each time Mr. Jackson talked to him for a few moments. Once when he answered a call Jackson gave him a key to the room and asked him to drop in whenever he felt like it.

On Wednesday, the night of the murder, he went to Mr. Jackson's room, admitting himself with the key he had possessed. His visit was for the purpose of getting some money Mr. Jackson had promised him. He found Mr. Jackson in the sitting room.

Mr. Jackson was glad to see him. Geidel said, but said that he had no money for him. After some talk Mr. Jackson went to bed and after a short time Mr. Jackson dozed off.

"I thought that he was asleep," said Geidel, with animation. "I put on my coat, I took his watch, chain and $6 and put them in my pocket. I took the cuff buttons out of his shirt. He woke up and cried, 'You thief.' He took hold of me and shoved me under the bed. I tried to get away from him and struck him in the face. I only used my fists. I tried to push him away from me. After I struck him I noticed blood on the bed and there was more coming from his mouth. I pushed him away finally and he fell on the floor. I was underneath him.

PAUL GEIDEL.

"He took me by the neck and tried to choke me, so I reached up and squeezed him. He let go and I got up and pushed him away. He came back and struck me with his fists four or five times. I struck him and he fell down. We struggled for a while on the floor. He fainted and couldn't move his legs or anything and became quiet again.

"I went into the bathroom and took the chloroform bottle and emptied it upon a cloth. I had the bottle in my pocket.

"Then I went back into the bedroom and put the rag into Jackson's mouth. I turned out the light and went back downstairs. I left the door of the room open. I wanted to get out as soon as I could before he waked up and I left the hotel by the main entrance.

Geidel told of pawning the watch and throwing away the cuff buttons and purse.

"This is the true story," said Geidel. I did not tell the truth before because I did not want my mother to know the real facts. I thought I would tell the police what I did and that I would be just sent away the next day."

LET'S HAVE IT.

Manager Ranne says he has received a communication from the office of the United Play Company saying that it was just possible they might be able to arrange a date for "The Lion and the Mouse." These are the kind and quality of attractions we want in our city.

Call your children and grandchildren's attention to Buster Brown's Puzzle ad in Comstock-Becker's ad. It will afford them lots of fun and they may win a pair of those excellent Buster Brown Holeproof Hose.

TOGO IS SOUVENIR LADEN

Admiral Has Everything from Safety Razor to Stallion.

Seattle Wash. Aug. 29.—Admiral Togo when he departs from here on the Tamba Maru will take with him hundreds of souvenirs of his trip to the United States. They range from a Percheron stallion, the gift of F. J. Keisel of Ogden to dainty sachet powders for Mme. Togo.

Wherever the admiral has visited, and more especially in the larger cities, he has been given mementoes of his trip. The gifts include practically every kind of goods manufactured that would permit of easy packing and handling. In the list are safety razors, pocket knives and edged tools, soaps, breakfast foods, motorcycles, books, firearms, ammunition, shoes, candies, cookies, flour, automobile accessories and collars and neckties.

FATHER KILLS THREE BABES AND SELF, LEAVES NOTE TELLING OF CRIME

South Thomastown, Me. Aug. 29.—Crazed with grief over the death of his wife, Edward Bennett Monday killed his three small children and himself. Bennett left a long account of the murder and a defense of his action.

Two of the children were killed with chloroform and the third with cyanide of potassium. Bennett himself took cyanide and then jumped into the sea. The children are Edward, 6; Barbara, 4; and Nancy, 2.

Bennett's statement, addressed to the rector, Rev. Russell Wood, read in part:

"My darling children have gone to join their mother, as I am going to join them all, and to face my God who, I hope, will forgive me if I have done wrong.

"I am going to take K. C. N. A. I do not know how much to take. I am going down to the sea so that I may certainly drown if he K. C. N. is not sufficient. I am placing the sofa against the door so that Mrs. Thurlow cannot get in and will have to get help, which will mitigate the shock to her."

Bennett was an Englishman and a graduate of Oxford.

Supervised Teaching in Woodruff School

The coming year the system of student teaching under supervision of a training teacher will be extended through the third grade of the Woodruff school. This has been arranged in order to accommodate better the large number of student teachers at the Normal. The kindergarten will again be in charge of Miss Edith Dixon, the second grade under Miss Lucia Denmore and the third under Miss Gertrude Smith of Rochester, N. Y. Miss Smith has received special training for this kind of work at the Teachers' College, New York City. This plan will make no difference in the distribution of the children.

WORKING IN HIS BOOK

Dr. N. A. Harvey of the Normal College faculty is enjoying a unique and original pastime this summer. He is working quite steadily upon a book which will presently be ready for the publishers and when fatigued by the close application this entails he goes out and flies a kite. This is not an ordinary kite such as lads have always delighted to fashion, with a particularly large newspaper and two sticks and a tail which liberally represents the family resources in waste baskets, while the string which the boy plays out gratuitously advertises the grocer, the butcher and the candlestick maker whom his mother patronizes. It is on the contrary built on the model that the government weather bureau uses. Such a kite as this seven feet long has gone the highest of any kite on record.

Dr. Harvey's kite is five feet by four. It sails out of sight—as high as the string will allow and this is perhaps a quarter of a mile. It is four-sided and hollow and has no tail. They are intricate of construction and not so easily managed as amateur, unsophisticated kites. It is purely for amusement and not for any scientific purpose whatever that Dr. Harvey flies his kite.

PAUL BEATTIE BLASTS COUSIN

Tells on Witness Stand of Practical Confession.

GIVES HENRY BEATTIE'S WORDS

"I Wish to God I Hadn't Done It, Paul," Is Language Related—Testimony Is Great Surprise to Defense.

Chesterfield Court House, Va., Aug. 29.—Paul Beattie was on the witness stand to give testimony against his first cousin, Henry C. Beattie, Jr., on trial for wife murder.

Louis Wendenburg, commonwealth's attorney, addressed a question to him. "When you saw Henry that second day after murder of Mrs. Beattie had been committed, what did he say to you, if anything?"

"The next day I saw Henry," the young man answered, "he was sitting on the porch drinking a bottle of beer. I told him things looked black and I was sorry for him."

"I wish to God I hadn't done it, Paul," he said, "though I know she never loved me and she married me only for my money. I'd give a million dollars to have this thing undone. I wonder how those detectives found out that there was No. 6 shot in that gun."

Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., had been listening to the previous preliminary testimony of his cousin with the flicker of a tolerant smile about the corners of his mouth. When this speech was given his eyes suddenly dilated so that all the whites showed. His fingers curled and nails bit into his hands.

The youth let his jaw drop slowly and his shoulders sloped suddenly as if with fatigue. Behind him his father in a daze let his eyes wander blankly for an instant from the back of the witness to the near shape of his son's head. That recalled him. He slipped his arm about the prisoner's shoulder, and his lips tightened in pain. It was evident that neither the boy's father nor his lawyers had expected anything like this straight from the lips of Paul.

"And now go on," the insinuating voice of the commonwealth's prosecutor broke the tense silence in the court room. "What else did he say to you at that time?"

"I said to him: 'I'm sorry you got me into this business, Henry.' He answered quickly: 'You are not in half as bad a fix as I am,' and then when I started to go away he grabbed me and spoke to me hurriedly. 'Paul,' he said, 'I want you to stick by me. You will never regret it. You would not go back on me, would you? You keep your mouth shut about all this and stick by me.' Then I said to him: 'I won't stick anywhere. If they come after me, I'll tell them all I know.'"

Thus it was done. By these words from the lips of the hatchet-faced youth of twenty-one, the commonwealth's attorney drove into a case that had been up to this minute purely one of circumstantial evidence, a tremendous lever of fact—a practical confession.

LABOR DAY PICNIC

Preparations are under way for the annual picnic of the Presbyterian church and Sunday school, next Monday, September 4, at Recreation park. Messrs. Boyce, Garrett, Roy McCullough, Peet, and Halmar Green are the committee on games, contests, sports, etc. This committee met Monday evening at Dr. Garrett's home and arranged their program. There will be a baseball game and potato races, three-legged, sack and wheelbarrow races. Prizes will be awarded the lucky contestants, and these may be seen in the windows of F. H. Nissey's store the latter part of the week.

Messdames Webb, Garrett, Wells, Webster, Messrs. Arough and Magers are the committee on refreshments. They will meet this evening.

Messrs. Rankin, Hatch and Mrs. Fletcher are the committee on finance and publicity.

PROSPEROUS BAND OF GYPSIES PAY SHORT

VISIT TO YPSILANTI

A band of prosperous-looking gypsies passed through Ypsilanti this morning and are probably in camp somewhere in the vicinity by this time. There were four or five wagons of men, women and lively children, while the rumbles behind carried household goods. The wagons were well-painted and even fancifully ornamented and their horses were spirited and well groomed in many instances. During the morning they distributed themselves through the city telling fortunes and doing a little buying.

MERRY DEL VAL

Papal Secretary of State Has Gone on His Vacation.

POPE GREETS A CARDINAL

Receives Visitors While Merry Del Val Goes on Vacation.

Rome, Aug. 29.—Pope Pius received Cardinal Seraphin Vanutelli, grand penitentiary of the holy Catholic church, in audience. He received also Most Rev. Martin Tritschler y Cordova, archbishop of Yucatan. Cardinal Merry Del Val, papal secretary of state, went to Montemario on vacation for the remainder of the summer.

Captured as American Poacher. Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 29.—The gasoline schooner Sarah, of Seattle, was taken into New Westminster, B. C., harbor in charge of Canadian fishery protective cruiser. The Sarah was taken by the government cruiser while, it is alleged, fishing within the three-mile limit.

Hoosier Cities Get Banks.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Postmaster General Hitchcock designated fifty more postoffices of the first class as postal savings depositories, among which are Lafayette and Muncie, Ind.

Free Methodist Pastor Accepts New Charge

Rev. F. P. Russell, having held for the allotted three years the Free Methodist charge in this city and Wayne, has been transferred to a charge which includes Temperance, Ida and Whiteford. He will make his home at Temperance, a village of seven or eight hundred people eight miles from Toledo. Ida is nine miles away from Temperance and Whiteford six. Mr. Russell and his family will leave the city on Saturday. His new charge is considered one of the most desirable in the conference, Ypsilanti and Wayne being rather new, so that his going is in the nature of a promotion.

Rev. Mr. Marshall will be succeeded by C. W. Miller, who comes from the Adrian church. He has a wife and four children, and will move directly to this city, occupying the house at 518 St. Johns street. Mr. Miller, like Mr. Russell, will have the Wayne church in addition to the Ypsilanti church. He will begin his work Sunday, preaching in the morning at Wayne and in the evening at Ypsilanti.

WOMAN TO RUN POSTAL BANK

Chosen to Manage Savings Company Because of Special Fitness.

Los Angeles, Aug. 29.—When the postal savings bank opens in Los Angeles it is to be in charge of Mrs. B. C. Shelton, who for years has been assistant superintendent of the money order division. She was once connected with the auditor's division in Washington.

Postmaster Harrison says he selected Mrs. Shelton for this responsible position because of her fitness for the place.

It is said she is the first woman to be placed in charge of a postal savings bank.

Wortley's just received a big shipment of the swellest Sweater Coats ever shown in Ypsilanti—with and without collars.

BELIEVE WRECK WAS DELIBERATE

Spikes Were Pulled Out and Angle Bars Removed.

REWARD OUT FOR WRECKERS

Second Serious Accident on New Haven Road in Month Sets Officials to Investigating Seriously.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 29.—The New Haven road is confronted with the problem of solving what it believes to be a deliberate train wreck on the Valley division of the road near Middletown.

One man, Abram P. Brown of Hartford, was killed and forty-five persons were injured as the train plunged into the weeds along the track. A hasty examination revealed the fact that spikes had been pulled out of the ties and angle bars removed at that part of the division known as Maromas Curve.

The officials are convinced that the train was deliberately wrecked and Superintendent C. H. Woodward, posted a notice offering a reward of $2,500 for the arrest and conviction of the man or men responsible for the accident.

This was the second serious accident in a few weeks on the road, the wreck of the Federal Express in Bridgeport in July being the other. The company is pressing into service the state and county police for the work of tracing the train wreckers in conjunction with a big staff of railroad detectives, and it is reported that the police have found a clew that may lead to an arrest soon.

WEDDING GUESTS POISONED

Many of Them Become Ill After Eating Pressed Chicken.

Shannon, Ill., Aug. 29.—At a wedding supper following the marriage of Earl Boyd and Miss Bessie Cheeseman of Shannon, twenty of the guests became ill, several of them seriously, as a result of eating pressed chicken. Two physicians were summoned and the Cheeseman home was converted into a temporary hospital. The illness of the guests was diagnosed as ptomaine poisoning.

ARCHITECT CRAM WORKING OUT PLANS FOR ALTERATIONS IN THE ORIGINAL DESIGN OF CATHEDRAL OF ST. JOHN

RALPH ADAMS CRAM

Boston, August 29.—Ralph Adams Cram, consulting architect to the churches built recently under Mr. Cram's personal supervision are Calvary, Pittsburgh; Euclid Avenue Presbyterian, Cleveland, and St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit. The rebuilding of the United States Military academy at West Point, on which about $7,500,000 has been expended thus far, is under Mr. Cram's supervision. Mr. Cram is supervising architect to Princeton university.

FISH LAW TO BE CONTESTED

New Boston Men Raise Fund and Purposely Violate Its Provisions.

New Boston, Ill., Aug. 29.—In order to bring about a test in the courts of the law governing fishing in the Mississippi river, Charles Hall and Glen Bailey of New Boston went out on the river and purposely violated certain provisions of the law, having previously notified the fish warden of their purpose.

Their contention, and that of many other fishermen along the river, is that the Mississippi river is government water, and the state of Illinois has no control over it. The state claims to have control of the waters to the middle of the current. The fishermen have provided a large fund and will carry the case to the supreme court.

VICTIMS OF MOVING PICTURE DISASTER BURIED TODAY

Canonsburg, Pa., Aug. 29.—In the gloom of a rainy day the first of the funerals of the victims of Saturday night's picture show horror took place here this morning, and before night-fall 17 of the 26 unfortunates will have been buried. The first funeral procession wound its way through the streets at 6 o'clock when the hearse containing the body of George Kay, the 13-year-old son of Prof. R. H. Kay, director of music in the public schools, left the family home.

U. OF M. GIRLS START 200-MILE CANOE TRIP—WILL COOK AND CAMP

Ann Arbor, August 29.—Five University of Michigan girls, the Misses Rhea and Josephine Rankin, Crystal Thompson, Bess Steere and Grace Coons, left Ann Arbor Sunday for Alton, and from there they start on a 200-mile canoe trip down the Kalamazoo river to Lake Michigan. They will camp along the way nights and cook their meals.

COAST STORM WORKS HAVOC

Wild Winds Rage along Shores of the Carolinas.

PROPERTY LOSS WILL BE HEAVY

Disturbance Seems to Center Over Charleston Where Houses, Factories, Etc., Are Blown Over—Several Persons Killed.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 29.—A fierce storm has been raging for twenty-four hours. Many wild rumors are afloat as to the loss of life, but it is impossible to verify them at this time. The property loss is large and estimates range all the way from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. Telegraph and telephone service is completely demoralized, the electric light and power system is out of commission, masses of wreckage cover the streets and the business of the city is completely paralyzed.

The wind has reached a velocity of ninety-four miles an hour with the result that scores of houses have been wrecked. Shipping has suffered greatly; many large schooners have been blown ashore. The lower sections of the city were entirely inundated for the period of eighteen hours, caused by the high tide blown in the wind. The train service to and from the city is demoralized on account of the tracks having been washed away.

Shipping is paralyzed, the Clyde line steamer Mohawk from Jacksonville, bound for New York, was compelled to remain in her berth. The tide was over eight feet during the storm, three feet short of the record of 1893. Considerable damage was done by the water in the low section, necessitating many people being removed from their houses.

Great damage is feared for the rice and Sea Island cotton industries. The fertilizer mills were also badly damaged. All of the mills lost their smokestacks, water towers, and some of their roofing.

In the city the damage is large in the unroofing of houses, toppling over chimneys, etc.

The trestle adjoining the Mount Pleasant ferry wharf was blown down, killing J. M. Smith of Columbia, and Mortimer Cutler of the Consolidated Electric company of Charleston, severely injuring L. D. Kintworthy of St. Stephens, and E. B. Hill. After a perilous night clinging to a roof top, Ernest Hodge was rescued.

A. J. Coburn, Southern railway engineer, was killed by a roof flying across the railroad yard and hitting him in the back.

The others among the dead are almost all negroes.

Several schooners blown upon the beach are lying helpless. All the residents of the resort islands about the city were notified of the approaching storm in time to leave but it is estimated that more than 250 were unable to reach the mainland, and that their condition is perilous.

A number of small fishing boats have been lost.

Sullivan's Island was completely inundated and great anxiety was felt for the people who have homes there.

The soldiers from Fort Moultrie did heroic work in rescuing families, the people being taken to the government reservation with the storm still raging.

The storm seems to have centered over Charleston and vicinity. It is feared that the greatest loss of life has occurred on the coast islands, but it will be days before the details are known.

STEAMSHIP IN DISTRESS

Sends Out S. O. S. Signal, but Fails to Tell Location.

Millen, Ga., Aug. 29.—The steamship Apache of the Clyde line, bound from New York to Jacksonville via Charleston, sent out an S. O. S. signal, saying she was being driven ashore, but failed to give her position.

The revenue cutter Yamacraw and other vessels have gone to seek her. The Apache has a large passenger list.

PICNIC WEDNESDAY

The Odd Fellows of this city will hold their annual picnic in Hague Park, Jackson, Wednesday, August 30. Cars leaving the D. J. & C. waiting room in Ypsilanti at 7:30 a. m. will connect with specially chartered cars in Ann Arbor, which point will be left at 8:10 a. m. Returning, cars will leave Jackson at 6 p. m.

The party who took the rug and rocking chair from C. T. Clifford's porch is known. If he wants to save exposure and possible prosecution let him return the goods and no questions will be asked.

BETTER BUSINESS MUNICIPALLY GROWS.

Nearly 140 American cities with an aggregate population of three million people now have commission charters following closely the Galveston and the Des Moines plans. Both plans work out satisfactorily. The "interests" are at work through their press agents trying to discredit the commission form of government. The same selfish "interests" have opposed every movement which has looked to the making of our political machinery more responsive to the public will.

They opposed primary election reform. They opposed direct nominations from United States senators down. They opposed the amendment of our outgrowth state constitutions. They oppose the principles of the initiative, the referendum and the recall. This news item of today suggests their work nearer home.

"Saginaw, Mich., Aug. 22.—Acting under pressure brought to bear by citizens, the council has named Sept. 26 as date for the election of charter commissioners. When the city voted to revise the charter last spring, the council immediately placed the election for Nov. 7, many months away."

It will be noticed that it required "pressure brought to bear by citizens" to get a chance to vote even as early as September when they voted to revise the charter as early as last spring.

And often only when "pressure is brought to bear by citizens" does our present system of municipal government act, and mainly because it is an unbusinesslike system—too unbusinesslike by which to run so large a business as a city successfully. And so from the Atlantic to the Pacific the people are demanding a change in the system of their municipal government.

The people of New York are now at work on what is called the "Lockport Plan," which claims to be an improvement on the Galveston and Des Moines plans. The commissioners there, as we understand, instead of administering the separate departments themselves, "hire a man to run the city," a business manager, so to speak. This manager picks and hires experts to run the different departments. Then the commissioners tell the business manager what the people want. And if he doesn't get results he is fired and someone else is hired to take his place. And if the commissioners don't get results, the people can recall them. It seems likely that this system reduces a big business to a business basis and makes it conform very closely to the methods which have long been successfully employed by large private business undertakings. The recall makes the employees in this business as responsive to the people as are those in a private corporation to the board of directors and the stockholders.

"WHAT IS SOCIALISM?"

Upon the things, and the law of social evolution that he believes them to express, the Socialist, in the last analysis, takes his stand and obtains his hope. And in this connection some explanation should be offered of the "Doctrine of the Unconsumed Surplus," and the best popular explanation of that is the one offered by Charles Edward Russell in the article in Hampton's Magazine already referred to. Though any civilized country would serve as an example, Mr. Russell takes the United States. "This country produces," he says, "every year, about four billion dollars of wealth. Labor receives in wages two billion dollars. Consequently, labor can consume only one-half of the total wealth production, because it can consume no more than its wages will purchase. But, as the laboring-class is very much greater, it is obviously impossible that the small capitalist class (comprising the remainder of the nation) should consume the remainder or any considerable part of it. Hence there is left two billions of wealth that is shipped abroad. It goes to England, for example, in the shape of wheat and food. But England is in exactly the same condition of producing more than she consumes. Hence our unconsumed surplus and England's unconsumed surplus are exchanged into cloth and steel in the same condition of producing more than it consumes. Hence while the unconsumed surpluses of England and the United States are exchanged into the unconsumed surpluses of other nations, yet the surplus remains always unconsumed. Eventually this unconsumed surplus alights upon a country that is not developed, a country that consumes more than it produces, and there the surplus from the developed countries is finally consumed and disappears. "Good! But the number of undeveloped countries is steadily diminishing and is narrowly limited. One hundred years ago, or thereabouts, there were consuming the surplus of other nations; now we are adding enormously to the world's surplus. Argentina used to be a consuming country, it is now a surplus adding country. Japan used to be a consuming country, it is now a surplus-adding country. Just as rapidly as a nation swings from barbarism to civilization it ceases to be a surplus-consuming country.

"What is the world to do when this process has been carried only a little further and there are no more surplus-consuming countries?"

"Indeed that is an acute problem this very moment. That is what is the matter with the commercial world. For the first time the world feels the pinch. Development has changed one country after another from surplus-consuming to surplus-producing countries, and there is slowly accumulating this mass of unconsumed surplus with which the world knows not how to deal.

"The obvious remedy is to limit production to the world's consumption, which, under present conditions, is what is sought when mills shut down and factories cease to produce. But inasmuch as under present conditions every such interruption of industry is accompanied by vast suffering and actual starvation, the Socialists feel assured that here again evolution will bring about the triumph of their cause, because Socialism is the only system so far devised that would adjust production to consumption, just as it is the only system that would abolish child labor, intemperance and prostitution."

NEWS BRIEFS

STATE

JACKSON—800 miles of guideway roads and great legislative activity sums up the work of the Michigan State Automobile Association for 1910.

FLINT—Flint is to be the first city in Michigan to be inspected in connection with a campaign for fire prevention that is to be begun by the Michigan State Fire Prevention association recently organized.

HILLSDALE—After eight days of lectures and musicals, the 1911 Chautauqua has closed.

GRAND RAPIDS—William Alden Smith has a trophy in the shape of the gold pen with which President Taft signed the bill which will add two new stars to the American flag and admit to the union New Mexico and Arizona. President McKinley gave Senator Smith the gold pen by which he signed the declaration of war against Spain.

NATIONAL

WASHINGTON—Prof. S. P. Langley flew the first heavier-than-air machine and pointed the way to the present development of aviation and the Smithsonian institution has just issued his memoir on mechanical flight, detailing the years of labor and experiment of the pioneer mechanical aerial constructor.

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—A roundup of 25,000 or 30,000 elk in the Jackson Hole country has begun. Under the leadership of cowboys the elk are being driven to other sections where there is better range.

WICHITA, Kan.—Motor cars will supplant hand cars and velocipedes on the Missouri Pacific railway system.

ST. PAUL—James J. Hill has offered to give $250,000 and D. C. Shepherd has added an offer of $100,000 toward a new public library if the city will raise $500,000 without selling the present library site. Mayor Keller suggests that the city lease the present site for 99 years, with five-year renewals, and thus enable the city to pay both the interest and principal on a $500,000 bond issue.

BOISE, Idaho—Commemorating the coming of irrigation and calling the attention of the country to the rapid strides taken by the Northwest during the past decade through this agency, is the motif for a week's carnival which will be held here during the week of Oct. 9.

CUTS DOWN TRUST PRICES

Prison Binder Twine Plant Operated at Low Cost.

Jackson, Mich., Aug. 29.—Never before in the history of the binder twine plant at Jackson prison has that industry been run at a lower cost than during the present season. A total of 1,000 convicts are given employment and the daily output of the plant is 15,000 pounds of twine. This is sold to the consumer at $6.75 per 100 pounds if cash is paid or $7 on time. The price for the next season's output has not yet been established.

Since the establishment of the prison plant the prices have been materially lowered and the farmer has received the benefit of the reduction. The cost of maintaining the plant has been cut from $12,300 to $6,200 per year by the new management.

CITY IN DEATH MANIA

Three Hastings Men Die by Shooting, Hanging and Drowning.

Hastings, Mich., Aug. 29.—John Jettings, aged thirty-nine; Leonard Walters, aged 60; and Harry Franze, aged thirty-two, residents of this city, met tragic deaths.

Jettings was found in a swamp, where he had shot himself. Walters hung himself from a bedpost. Franze was seized with cramps while swimming and was drowned.

Orrin W. Munger Is Dead.

St. Johns, Mich., Aug. 29.—Orrin W. Munger, prominent among the earlier settlers and best known business man of St. Johns and Clinton county, died at his home from hemorrhage and heart failure, aged seventy-six years. A widow, three sons and one daughter survive him. Mr. Munger was a native of Ohio and came to St. Johns with his brother in the spring of 1857, and engaged in the dry goods business.

To Spend Evening in Bay City.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 29.—Charles Hilles, secretary to President Taft, has telegraphed Congressman Loud that the president will arrive in Bay City Monday, Sept. 18, at 7:45 p. m., and that he will leave at midnight. The board of commerce is in charge of the evening's program, which will include a speech by the president, a reception and a dinner.

Fire in Kawkawlin.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 29.—Word was received from Kawkawlin, a small town seven miles north of this city, that fire started in Schweinsburg's creamery and fanned by a brisk wind, spread rapidly to adjoining buildings. Two barns and a house besides the creamery were burned.

BIG PLANS FOR STATE

FAIR--HARNESS EVENTS WILL BE A FEATURE

"Greater and grander than ever before."

This is the slogan that has been adopted by the Michigan State Fair management for the sixty-second annual exhibition to be held on the magnificent grounds of the Michigan State Agricultural society at Detroit, September 18th to 27th, 1911, and if excellence, diversity, quality and quantity of exhibits, and entertainment features that are new, novel and startling, suited to all tastes and requirements, can bring out the crowds, there will be no doubt about the attendance.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been expended on grounds and buildings with a view to permanency, and each year some substantial structure or structures are added to the group as a whole, to meet the growing requirements of a great agricultural, horticultural, educational and industrial exposition, wherein can be displayed the products of the farms and factories of a great state—or of several states.

Last year the society erected, at an expense of $50,000, a building for the display of automobiles and accessories, that is 125x320 feet. For the coming fair, every inch of the 34,000 square feet on the ground floor will be occupied by automobile manufacturers with the latest designs of machines, including many 1912 models, while the second floor will be occupied by manufacturers of auto accessories, electrical appliances, etc.

There is every prospect that the coming State Fair will in every re-

The first State Fair of Michigan was held at Ann Arbor, October 1, 1839. Twenty head of animals, both cattle and sheep, the proud exhibits of Henry Raymond, a Grosse Ile farmer, and specimens of cheese and butter from a Mr. Tibbits, of Plymouth, constituted the first exhibition of the agricultural and horticultural fair of Michigan in that year. No preparation whatever had been made, no officers of the institution could be found, and not half a dozen persons in Ann Arbor had heard that such a fair was to be held. There was no fair grounds designated; but on the appointed day the two exhibitors drove thirty miles to have the show, and put in an appearance on a vacant lot, commenced holding the State Fair and soon drew quite a respectable crowd. The good people of the village voted thanks to the exhibitors, and the exhibitors themselves felt quite proud of that "State Fair."

So the two hardy pioneers—Raymond and Tibbits—true to Michigan from the beginning to the end, walked off with all the awards of premiums, or rather were entitled to those offered by the institution, consisting of silver sets, spoons, etc. But where, oh where, were they? Echo has not yet answered.

On returning home, Raymond addressed the president of the society, the Hon. John Biddle, of Detroit, asking what had gone wrong, and why no officials of the association appeared at Ann Arbor. President Biddle politely and regretfully informed Farmer Raymond that the whole thing had entirely escaped his memory until the "day after the fair." And so the State Fair had its inception.

BUILDING "GOOD ROADS" AT THE STATE FAIR.

spect, and by far, eclipsing any event of like character ever held in Michigan, if not any State in the Union. To have the reputation of holding the greatest fair in the United States has been the goal of the management, and President Thomas E. Newton is fully satisfied that this ambition will be reached in 1911.

A force of men has been set to work on the grounds for weeks, cleaning, sodding, mowing, trimming the shrubs and trees, and setting out beds of flowers, and by September everything will be in full bloom, and the grounds a delight to the eye and an ideal rest spot for tired visitors.

The twenty per cent increase in premiums offered by the fair management this year to exhibitors in the livestock, agricultural and horticultural departments has evidently greatly stimulated interest in these departments as inquiries and requests for space already greatly exceed any former year.

Has Been Some Changes.

The seventy-two years that have intervened since the first "State Fair" was held, have seen Michigan develop from a wilderness into one of the greatest agricultural and industrial states in the Union, and Detroit grow from a trading post to the metropolis of the state. In this period the "State Fair" has been through bankruptcy several times.

Fair is Agricultural in Foundation and Purpose.

From this small beginning in 1839 has been evolved what is now conceded to be the greatest annual fair and exposition that is held anywhere in the country. The Michigan State

Fair is an agricultural foundation of purpose. It should always remain so. This is because it is an invaluable benefit to the farmer. The Detroit Journal in a recent issue said editorially:

"The Fair offers the place where the farmer can display his most highly developed products. Perhaps a man has spent his life in some special line. Where shall he make known his success? Where shall it be made profitable to him? At the State Fair. Where shall he compare his success with that of others? Where shall he find whether he is leading or falling behind? Only at the State Fair."

Patrons of the Michigan State Fair will be treated to the highest class of horse racing in the world this year, as the management has secured dates in the Grand Circuit. This means that all the fastest horses in the world and all the famous drivers will participate in the big events that will be raced during the first week of the fair.

The stellar feature of attraction will be the great Michigan Stake, worth $10,000. The list of entries already secured guarantees a wonderful contest that should prove one of the greatest races of the year. There is also a $5,000 pacing race and class races for all the Grand Circuit horses.

In recognition of Michigan as a center of horse breeding, the American Association of Trotting Horse Breeders has decided to award to the Michigan State Fair its matron stake, one of the great colt races of the trotting turf.

There will be five days of Grand Circuit races that will furnish some of the turf history of the season of 1911.

Productive Advertising.

First Newslet—"These big advertising guys mostly don't know how to write a fetching ad—didjer ever notice?" Second Newslet—"Not partikler. How?" First Newslet—"Well, here's an example: 'De odder day I lost me dawg, and I stuck an ad. in de classified libe dis—'Lost! Yeller dawg answerin' to de name of 'Swipes.' Will be known after tree days mosly by symptoms of hydrophobia.' I got him back next day." This is a good illustration of the fact that you have got to understand human nature to get results from advertising.

MOSQUITOES BAD THIS YEAR.

But don't scratch the poisoned skin. Use a mild, cooling, healing compound that stops the itch instantly, draws out the poison in the skin and protects it against further trouble.

Just a mild cleansing wash of oil of wintergreen, thymol and a few other ingredients known as the D. D. D. Prescription (so famous in cases of Eczema) and you have mosquito protection for the season.

Which Roofing Shall I Use?

Answer that question for good and all. When you buy prepared roofing you expect years of wear and satisfaction. Here is the way to insure getting it. A simple way—an easy way and a quick way to find out just exactly how any prepared roofing will stand up under ten years of the hardest kind of wear on a building.

First, get our book from the dealer. It's called "Ten Years Wear in Ten Minute Tests." Then—get samples of any prepared roofings you are considering and subject them all to the six tests contained in the book. These tests correspond to ten years of extreme weather and emergency conditions. Choose the roofing that stands them best. It will last longest on your building.

If you really want to know which roofing is best, don't fail to include in your tests. We furnish the way of knowing. We furnish the samples. You do the rest. Decide for yourself which roofing you want to use. Base your decision on the way the roofing is going to wear. Don't let any one's talk influence you. Just choose the roof that makes good best.

Vulcanite Roofing

You won't be sure of money's worth in roofing until you try these tests. Ask or write the dealer whose name appears below. He'll furnish the book and samples.

A Parisian Pastime.

There is scarcely a Parisienne of gentle birth who does not admit to a weakness for fancy work, or who does not occupy herself at some time of the afternoon or evening with playing her needle.

Tapestry work she once loved, and Irish crochet, but these in turn have been laid aside for tatting. Tatting is as much the rage in Paris as in Berlin and Vienna today, but it is a new sort of tatting, and requires the use of two shuttles instead of one, and richly colored silks instead of white cotton.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Ypsilanti Citizen Can Afford To Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills help sick kidneys. Here's Ypsilanti proof:

W. H. Hall, 513 N. Adams St., Ypsilanti, Mich., says: "Short use of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Weinmann-Matthews Co.'s Drug Store, convinced me that they are an excellent kidney remedy. They entirely relieved me of pain in the small of my back and difficulty with the kidney secretions. I cheerfully recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The Most Versatile of All Musical Instruments

The Victor - Victrola

It doesn't matter to what class of music your taste may incline—or whether in entertainments Grand Opera or Vaudeville is preferred—the repertoire of the Victrola is practically limitless. You may heartily enjoy the clever sketch of some witty comedian, and five minutes later listen to a man of world-wide prominence talk on some subject of national importance—the versatility of the Victrola knows only the limits of speech and of musical rendition themselves.
